REVISION TO PSYCHOLOGY MAJOR OPTION-A (PSYA)

BACKGROUND

During the 2012-13 academic year a revision to the PSYCHOLOGY MAJOR OPTION-A (PSYA) was approved. After approval, however, it was discovered that a typographical error had escaped notice on the Revised Program forms. The error incorrectly stated the required number of elective credits for PSYA as 12 S.H. The value approved by the Psychology Department was 9 S.H.

This notification corrects that clerical error.

Due to being the correction of an error, this change should take effect immediately.

CURRENT

The Option-A Psychology Major presently requires 12 S.H. of psychology electives. The total number of credits for Option-A is currently 39-40 S.H., which is based on the incorrect value of 12 S.H. of electives.

REVISED

The Option-A Psychology Major will now require 9 S.H. of psychology electives, as originally approved by the Psychology Department but incorrectly stated on the program revision form. The total number of credits required for this major should reflect this correction and be stated as 36-37 S.H.
