BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

The Nursing Department at Winona State University-Rochester offers a liberal education with a concentration of study in nursing. The curriculum builds on a broad base of general education studies. In addition to liberal learning and global perspectives, students develop clinical, scientific, decision-making and caring skills in nursing courses that combine the theory and the practice of nursing. Graduates have career flexibility with their preparation for practice in all health care settings, for working with clients of all ages, for leadership and case management and for pursuing graduate study.

Through the Path to Purple program, students may complete this Bachelor of Science degree in its entirety contingent upon Rochester Campus placement. Students can complete lower division credits at RCTC and the major’s upper division credits with WSU-Rochester.

Campus assignment determines location of clinical facilities. Students assigned to the Rochester campus participate in acute care clinical experiences at hospitals affiliated with Mayo Medical Center, Olmsted Medical Center and other clinical experiences in nursing homes, public health agencies, mental health agencies, school systems, occupational health settings, other community agencies and clients’ homes.
