Thursday, August 19, 2010
Faculty Workshops

9:00 – 11:30
Topic: ACHIEVEMENT, RETENTION AND EQUITY:
Key Pedagogical Changes that Can Make a Real Difference in ANY College Classroom WITHOUT Lowering Standards (Applying the Scholarship of Teaching in Ways that Really Matter)
Dr. Craig Nelson, University of Indiana
Stark Auditorium

1:00 – 3:00  WORKSHOP: Applying the Changes in YOUR Courses
Dr. Craig Nelson
158 Maxwell Hall

Dr. Craig E. Nelson is Professor Emeritus of Biology at the University of Indiana. He was instrumental in creating University of Indiana’s prestigious Scholarship of Teaching and Learning program. He was the first Director (1971-77) of Environmental Programs in University of Indiana’s School of Public and Environmental Affairs. Dr. Nelson is a major voice in the national discussion of college teaching, active learning, and critical thinking.

Sponsored by the Faculty Development Committee

Questions?
Contact committee members:
Pat Paulson, Gary Eddy, Lynne Ornes, Robin O’Callaghan