Notes:

WSU was informed at the end of December 2016 that WI requires edTPA; therefore, upload your edTPA scores with your WI application. This is a recent statement we received from WI DPI, "If they come here directly without any experience, they will need to pass it regardless of the MN license. Here is preliminary information about the WI. edTPA handbooks <http://dpi.wi.gov/sites/default/files/imce/tepd/pdf/edtpainterimreport.pdf>

The scores set depend on the # of rubrics.

Handbook	Wisconsin Passing Score
15 rubrics	38
13 rubrics (World Lang)	32

- Always refer to the WI web site regarding additional requirements! WSU is not responsible for changes in the WI requirements.

-Candidates can email Julie Hagen with the WI DPI if they have questions Julie.Hagen@dpi.wi.gov after thoroughly reading the WI DPI website for out of state candidates.

-Majors and Minors; All Elementary majors need to have either Early Childhood (Birth to 6th grade) or a Middle Level Content minor (1st to 8th grade-no Kindergarten) with their Elementary major. Candidates who have a middle level minor with a teaching major other than Elementary or Secondary in the same discipline will not receive the middle endorsement. For example an Art Education major with a Middle Level Social Studies minor will not get the middle level Social Studies endorsement in WI.

RE: 18 weeks of student teaching requirement for WI Licensure

WI requires 18 weeks of student teaching and MN requires 16 weeks of student teaching for licensure. It is likely that your WI license will have a stipulation regarding the two week difference in student teaching; however, this will be a full time license in which you are qualified to teach in any public school district in WI. You will not have to complete more student teaching weeks, because your actual 18 weeks of teaching in your first teaching job will fulfill this requirement. In Wisconsin all first time teachers have to teach for 3 years to receive a permanent license.

WI also requires adequate preparation in conservation of natural resources (WSU, BIO 104 or BIO 315) and preparation in Native American cultures (covered in WSU EDFD 460/461 and EDFD 462 or the travel studies class- EFRT 308).

Students must meet MN licensure requirements to be qualified for a WI license including passing the MN required exams; additional WI required Praxis II Content Exams (all majors) and an additional Reading Exam www.wi.nesinc.com (Special Education and Elementary majors).

Wisconsin requires Elementary majors to have Early Childhood or a Middle Level Content Minor (English, Math, Social Studies, or Science) with their Elementary major. WI does not honor the middle level minor with any other license besides Elementary or the Secondary license in Science, Math, CAL, or Social Studies. Some licensure areas may have more classes required. The WI DPI will send you a letter stating any differences.

WSU is the teacher preparation program and adheres to the MN requirements. The State Department of licensing in any given state is the authorized licensing agency. WSU is not liable for licensure requirements in other states.

WI teacher licensure information and testing requirements can be obtained at <http://dpi.wi.gov/tepd/licensing/testing-requirements>

This is what the WI form asks the WSU Certification Officer to sign “The Certification Officer, confirm that the education and testing information provided above is accurate and that the applicant is eligible for a licensure in our state on the basis of having completed our state-approved program”.
