What is the Learning Club?

The Learning Club is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the continuing education of retired people. It capitalizes on the strengths and characteristics of older learners, offering programs selected, attended, and often taught by the membership.

The Learning Club is a great way to meet interesting people. Classes are held during the day at convenient locations throughout the city.

Why should I join The Learning Club?

Our gatherings are geared specifically to the interests of retired people.

It's education as it is meant to be: challenging, yet leisurely, fun, and exciting. Topics are taught by people who love their subject to people whose motivation is simply a love of learning and a desire to stay fresh and vibrant throughout retirement.

How do I join?

Send your dues and application for membership to the address on the form. Make checks payable to WSU Learning Club. You may also sign up at an open house in August.

Do I need formal education—a high school or college diploma—to take part?

No. All you need is a desire to stretch your mind, pursue a passion, update a skill, and discover your gift. Your hunger for challenging classes taught by instructors who are passionate and experienced in their topic will create a learning environment. A lifetime of experience qualifies everybody as an interesting contributing member of the classes. That's all you need!

What does it cost?

Annual membership is $20.00 per year, payable fall. Membership dues must be paid prior to the first class meeting a member plans to attend. The membership fee allows you to take part in as many classes and special events as you wish. A class fee may be charged for special events involving meals or transportation.

For information call the Learning Club Liaison at WSU Retiree Center, 457-5565.
